INTEREST IS GROWING IN THE REVIVAL RANKS

The interest is growing intense in the series of revival meetings in progress in this city, conducted by Evangelist Newton S. McClurkin and his assistants, Mrs. McClurkin and Miss Lillian Estes.

The increased interest seemed to develop out of the services held last Sunday. The large tabernacle was comfortably filled at the eleven o'clock service, and a spirit of unionism was in the air, the pastors of the various churches calling in their services for the day and all uniting as one. Dr. McClurkin delivered an appealing message on "Love," at this hour, being well received by his attentive hearers. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, the evangelist delivered a stirring address to men and boys only, using as a subject for his discourse "The Twentieth Century Sodom." Dr. McClurkin, in this address, dealt with vice and wickedness in its most corrupt form, holding the careful attention of his audience to a man, and no doubt many who were present were lifted to a higher and nobler plane of Christian citizenship by having heard this message. At the same hour, Mrs. McClurkin addressed an appreciative audience of women and young ladies of the town at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. McClurkin is a most consecrated woman and an interesting speaker as well. Perhaps the largest crowd ever in attendance at a revival in Dickson, was present at the evening service, hundreds being unable to get under the tabernacle. At this service, five cottage prayer-meetings were organized in different divisions of the town, and in addition to these a Business Men's prayer-meeting was formed. These meetings are held daily, just preceding the afternoon service, and the reports given from night to night have been most gratifying, both in attendance and of the spirit being manifested. The young people were organized into service at the afternoon service Tuesday, Mrs. McClurkin and sister, Miss Estes, being in charge.

The choir is now well organized, and are furnishing splendid music, under the leadership of F. G. Murphy. Special numbers are given at each service. The sacred program in whistling by Miss Estes is one of the features.

Sunday will be another busy day in the ranks of the revival. Dr. McClurkin has announced three services for this day—11 a. m., 3:00 and 7:45 p. m. At the special service at three o'clock he will deliver a sermon on "Temptation." Everybody is especially urged to hear this message.

Fair Catalogues.

The Dickson County Fair catalogues will be ready for distribution the first of next week. The work of distributing them will be pushed as fast as possible, and judging from the number who have called at this office asking when they will be ready, the interest in the fair this year is going to be larger this fall than ever before. Don't fail to get one of the catalogues and begin now to make your plans for the fair.

Notice.

To the Voters of Dickson County: I am sorry to say that some of my political enemies have been telling that I am showing preference to some of the other candidates of the county. I wish to denounce this report as a falsehood, as I have said or done nothing for or against any candidate to any office in the county.

The only man I have been working for is Tom Coleman for Sheriff, and those who have been telling that I was taking any part in any other race, knew they were telling a lie, and their whole object was to injure me.

I am sure my friends have the hope for Sheriff won for me, and I hope that no friend will be influenced to vote against me on account of any political lies that are started a day or two before the election.

Very respectfully,

T. J. COLEMAN.

A Card.

To the Voters of Dickson County:

It is being circulated over the county that I said that I didn't want any republican votes. This is an infamous falsehood and was only done to injure me in my race for Trustee. I hope my friends will not let this mislead them, for no such thing ever entered my mind. Other reports are being circulated to injure me, but I hope my friends will stay with me, and I believe that we can win. It is being told that I have been a citizen of Dickson County for only five years. I have been a citizen of Dickson County nearly sixteen years and all the taxes that I have ever paid have been in this county. I am asking my friends to stay with me and we will win.

Respectfully,

J. B. CUMMINS.

E. Miller, will make a strong pull for the institution to be located at this place.

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN PADGETT

To the Democrats of the Seventh Congressional District:

I have information from reliable sources that Mr. J. Grady Jones in his campaign both in private conversations and in public speeches is making statements in substance that I have accomplished but little for my district and have failed and neglected to look after and care for the interests of my district and is repeating the discredited tales and false political slanders that have been circulated, told and re-told in practically every campaign for the past fourteen years, which slanders I have repeatedly denounced as false.

To show that Mr. Jones has not himself given credence to them or believed them and to prove by Mr. Jones himself that he did not himself entertain such opinions I submit to you the following letters which Mr. Jones of his own volition wrote me and which speak for themselves and my reply to the last two letters:

"Waverly, Tenn.,

Jan. 7th, 1915.

Hon. L. P. Padgett,

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir and Friend:

I notice you are being prominently mentioned as Secretary of the Navy in the Wilson Cabinet. Should you want the place, no man in Tennessee would be prouder for you than myself, should you land the place, not because I would like to have your seat in Congress, but because I am your friend and would be glad to see you in the Cabinet of the United States. Should fortune smile on you to that extent, would you be kind enough to keep me posted so I will know how to keep in line for Congress and when and how will the fight be made. I am sure you had as soon see me take your place in Congress as some man in the seventh district who would try for the place in the event of your going to the Cabinet, as I have made one hard fight, spent much money and then was defeated. With best wishes,

Respectfully,

J. Grady Jones."

"Waverly, Tenn.,

August 17, 1915.

Hon. L. P. Padgett,

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir and Friend:

I expect to be a candidate for Congress again and will start my speaking campaign first of January, but in event I could get the Port office at Waverly I would make myself content and would not be a candidate. Write me what you think my chances for the place would be.

Respectfully,

J. Grady Jones."

"Hurricane Mills, Tenn.,

August 18th, 1915.

Hon. L. P. Padgett,

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir and Friend:

Having written from Waverly yesterday in regard to the Post office at that place, but as I failed to explain things as I should have done, I am writing you again. As I told you I expect to run for Congress again but should I be able to get the office at Waverly I would be content and not run for Congress and I realize the fact no man can get the office without first getting your recommendation. Should you tell me you would give me your recommendation I then would send in my application and would move to Waverly at once, but without your telling me you would recommend me I am sure it would be worse than fully for me to send in my application as I know no man can get the position unless you say for him to have it. Should I get the position I would not be a candidate for Congress but in the event you should refuse at any time, or should I want to run for the position at any time, I would want to reserve the right to do so. I am writing you this and please do not think of me as being in any way.
